

INVESTIGATION OF B. & O. WRECK

Interstate Commerce Commission
Takes Up the Terra Cotta
Railway Tragedy.

IS BLOCK SYSTEM RELIABLE?

Chief Train Dispatcher Testified
That Often He Did Not Know
Location of Trains.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 4.—What promises to be a most rigid investigation of the recent wrecks on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at Terra Cotta, D. C., in which more than two scores of passengers lost their lives, and on the Southern Railway at Lawyers, Va., on Thanksgiving Day, when President Samuel Spencer and seven others were killed, was begun to-day by the Interstate Commerce Commission, acting under a general resolution passed by Congress at the last session, providing for an inquiry into the operation of the block system on the railroads throughout the country.

It is said the purpose of the commission to determine whether the responsibility for these two wrecks should be placed on the workings of the block system or the carelessness of the railroad's employees stationed at the block stations.

Commissioner Clements is conducting the inquiry, and the railroads are represented by attorneys. It is understood, if the block system is found to be unreliable, some immediate legislative remedy will be urged upon Congress by the commission.

Often in the Dark.

The Terra Cotta wreck was first taken up to-day. Chief Dispatcher T. F. Dent, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, testified that the whereabouts of trains are often unknown to him for five or ten minutes, because of the failure or inability of operators at the block stations to communicate with him when a train passes their station. Engineer Hildebrand, who crashed into the Frederick local at Terra Cotta, testified that the double green light was displayed at Silver Springs and University Stations.

If there was a "danger-light" at Takoma station, the witness declared, he did not see it. He testified that during Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock and Sunday evening at 6:30, when the wreck occurred, a period of 48 hours, he had had only eight hours sleep. He said, however, that he was called to make the fatal run he did not feel a lack of sleep, but was in good trim.

Hildebrand admitted he had been suspended at least three times—once for allowing the engine boiler to become short of water; then for five days because he did not stop after the explosion of a torpedo, which he ran over, and again for running through a switch. He said he had heard of a number of instances where engineers have passed by a red signal, but he could not give any specific instances.

He admitted he sometimes took a drink while off duty, but that on the day of the wreck he had not touched a drop.

SENT FATHER-IN-LAW INFERNAL MACHINE

The Police Accuse Dr. Gottlieb of Many Misdoings.

NEW YORK, January 4.—When Dr. Julius Adelphi Gottlieb, the physician, who was arrested last night for sending his father-in-law, Morris Glusman, a retired broker, an infernal machine, is arraigned next Sunday, and may have to face other charges fully as serious as that which resulted in his arrest. Complaints against Gottlieb poured in to the police to-day from many of his patients, who desired to become trained nurses, and who alleged that they had paid Dr. Gottlieb various sums of money upon his representation that he could obtain diplomas and registry for them without their having complied with the legal requirements.

Dr. J. M. Larque, formerly of Boston, but now of this city, told the police that several years ago Gottlieb suggested that he remove to New York, asserting that for $300 he could do so. Larque registered as a physician in this city without the formality of undergoing an examination. Larque says he paid this sum to Gottlieb, and later an additional $250, but had never received the certificate.

Gottlieb told the police to-day that the sending of the alleged infernal machine to his father-in-law was a joke. It was a harmless contrivance, he declared.

NICARAGUA SEIZES EMORY CONCESSIONS

United States Government Asked to Send Warships to Protect Property.

NEW ORLEANS, La., January 4.—It was reported to-night on good authority that the George D. Emory Company, of Boston, is about to ask the United States government to send a warship to Bluefields, Nicaragua, to protect American interests in that country in case of trouble over the arbitration of a dispute between the Nicaraguan government and the company over the Emory concessions. It is reported that three weeks ago the Nicaraguan government seized the Emory concessions, claiming that the American company had violated its contract by selling provisions and supplies to others than to its employees. Through the efforts of American Minister Merry it was decided to submit this dispute to arbitration. Now it is asserted that the Americans fear they may not receive fair treatment in the arbitration.

BAY SHORE CASE TO END IN COMPROMISE

Big Sums of Money Will Figure in Settlement of Lengthy Litigation.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., January 4.—The lengthy litigation over the Bay Shore Terminal Company, which is now before the Supreme Court of the United States for the second time, will probably be settled by compromise.

F. D. Zell and others, the plaintiffs, have made overtures to E. B. Smith & Company, of Philadelphia, who purchased the company, and the proposition is being considered.

Zell and his associates agreed to withdraw opposition to the ratification of the sale, provided $125,000 is paid them by consideration of expenditures. Of this sum, $25,000 is asked to make good the right of way along the Consolidated Turnpike bought by the plaintiffs. $80,000 is to represent bond receipts which the plaintiffs bought for a price said to be in the neighborhood of $25,000, and $10,000 is to cover the legal expenses due to the litigation.

TAKES UP WINTER WORK.

Students Slow, However, in Returning to College Duties.

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY, COLLEGE, VA., January 4.—The second term of the session began to-day, though a great many of the students are not yet in place. There was never a more complete exodus from the holidays, but two students remaining here during that period. Most of the professors also spent the holidays elsewhere.

The December number of the Bulletin has been issued. It is called the Alumni Number, and contains information as to the whereabouts, occupation, attainments and the like of a number of the men who have been students here at various times.

Along this line may be mentioned a compilation of class statistics of the class of 1891 by Mr. Horace Lacy Smith, of Atlanta, Ga., and a member of this class. The pamphlet represents a vast amount of patience and labor, and the information which it gives of the members of the class, though in brief form, is complete as to facts—details not being attempted. This shows that of the fifty-three members of the class, eight are dead, which Mr. Smith remarks, is in accordance with the recognized mortality tables.

TEXTILE WORKERS.

Demand Increased Pay and Will Strike If Not Promised.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., January 4.—At a meeting of textile workers in this city last night, it was unanimously voted to ask for an increase in wages of from 15 to 25 per cent. Delegates representing about thirty different workers were present from the following organizations: cloth weavers, upholsterers, weavers, rug weavers, loom fixers, weft weavers, Turkish towel weavers, German textile workers, French textile workers, danish weavers, etc.

Resolutions were adopted calling attention to the report of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which shows that the commodities of life have increased in price 25 to 50 per cent., and that the country is experiencing immense prosperity.

The resolutions state that if the increase is not granted, "steps will be taken to enforce the demands."

A committee was appointed to wait upon the employers and to give full power to call a strike if the conference with the mill owners is not satisfactory.

AVAILANCE OF MUD FROM MOUNT VESUVIUS

NAPLES, January 4.—The recent heavy rains have caused enormous avalanches of mud to start from the top of Mount Vesuvius. They grew in size as they swept along, and eventually spread over several square miles. Trees in their paths were uprooted and farm buildings were totally destroyed. A number of animals were killed, but fortunately no people lost their lives. One man had a narrow escape. He was carried by a mud-mule a mile on a sea of mud, but was rescued by three courageous women, who made their way over the avalanche at the risk of their lives and succeeded in bringing him to safety. A chain on the Vesuvius Railroad was blocked by the mud at Sanguiseppe, a village that was partly destroyed during the eruption of last April.

WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS DENIED MRS. MYERS

KANSAS CITY, MO., January 4.—Judge E. F. Phillips, of the United States District Court here, today denied the application of attorneys for Mrs. Aggie Myers for a writ of habeas corpus. Mrs. Myers is now in jail at Liberty under sentence of death for the murder of her husband, and with Frank Holloman in jail at Kansas City for complicity in the crime, will be executed on January 15 unless Governor Folk interposes.

This afternoon the attorneys of Mrs. Myers said they would on Monday next file an appeal to the United States Supreme Court from the decision of Judge Phillips.

EXIT CANINE.

Men and Chickens Now Do All the Fighting.

Dog-fighting, a sport that was patronized very much last year and the year before, has practically gone out of existence. There are few bulldogs in the city, and the owners of the few decline to allow them to battle. Cock-fighting has taken the place of the dog-fighting, and the bulldogs are relegated to the rear, to be used as watch-dogs or petted by children.

Christmas Disorderly Caught.

Oscar Jones, a negro, who is alleged to have shot Joshua Cole, another negro, Christmas Day, was arrested last night by Officer Clarkson, and locked up at the Second Police Station. Jones would not talk about the shooting. He said to an officer that the shooting was an accident.

Tortured a Mule.

Cass Minor, a negro, was arrested last night by Officer Schell on a warrant sworn out by Mr. Emmett Taylor, of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The warrant charges the negro with torturing a mule he was driving. The negro was bailed after being at the station-house for some time.

POLICE CAPTURE CLEVER CROOK

Fugitive Since 1903 Caught in Philadelphia—Had Changed
His Appearance.

PHILADELPHIA, January 4.—R. C. Flower, alias Gaines, who has been a fugitive from New York since 1903, where he is wanted to answer charges of grand larceny and swindling, was captured in one of the big office buildings in the center of the city, where, it develops, he has been located for some time. Under the name of Professor Oxford, the detective says, he was seeking to secure money from investors by representing that he had a wonderful chemical process whereby he could make diamonds and other precious stones and a patent brick.

The arrest of Flower ends a chase by the detectives and postal authorities that carried them through Mexico, Central America, part of South America, and Canada, besides many points in the United States. Following his operations in New York, through which, it is said, many society women lost money, Flower jumped bail after indictment in May, 1903. He was under $20,000 bond.

When the detectives eventually ran him down, they found that he was so changed in appearance that they could scarcely recognize him. As Professor Oxford, he was taken into custody by the police, and though the detectives had photographs of him, they were afraid they had made a mistake, and kept him under surveillance for several days before they were willing to make the arrest. When he was taken into custody he denied being the missing Mr. Flower, but after being placed in a cell at the Central Station, he admitted his identity.

B. & O. CHARGED WITH DISCRIMINATION

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., January 4.—A conference was held in this city to-day between a committee representing the Coal Producers' Association, recently organized in Baltimore, and William M. Glasgow, of counsel for the association, at which it was decided to take immediate action against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company on the charge of discrimination.

The Coal Producers' Association is composed of independent coal operators on the lines of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, and they charge that the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company discriminates in favor of what the operators call their "own companies," namely, the Consolidated Coal Company and the Somerset Coal Company—all of which, it is alleged, are controlled by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company. The Consolidated Coal Company operates in the George's Creek region of Maryland; the Fairmont, in what is known as the Fairmont region of West Virginia, and the Somerset, in the Meyersdale and Somerset districts of Western Pennsylvania.

Glasgow, who was stated, was directed to proceed at once against the Baltimore and Ohio Company.

DETERMINED TRY TO SECURE LETTER

A merchant, the postmaster, a mail-carrier and a young lady stenographer were the principal characters in a highly exciting drama enacted last night. Incidentally it might be said that the absence of a special delivery stamp on a letter addressed to a New York firm was noticed by all.

It all happened in this way: Mr. Sternheimer, a merchant, is a stenographer and wanted the letter to go by special delivery to the New York firm. He failed to impart this information to the young lady before she left the office, and she not knowing to the contrary, mailed the letter with a plain two-cent stamp.

About 9 o'clock Mr. Sternheimer thought of his mistake, and, as it is said, started on a search for his stenographer. Failing to locate her, he went to the post-office and asked to be allowed to place a special delivery stamp on the letter. It was found that the letter had not been taken up. Unless it reached New York at a certain time there would be a loss, and Mr. Sternheimer went with a mail-carrier to several of the boxes.

At a late hour in the night he was in his automobile, speeding to Church Hill, where he expected to locate his stenographer. And failing to do this, he said to an officer that he would telegraph the firm the contents of the letter.

MR. HARRIS ILL.

Stricken While on the Street
Yesterday Morning.

Mr. John H. Harris, who at the first of the year was retired by the Police Board, was taken very ill yesterday morning on the street. He was carried to home, 721 West Clay Street. His condition last night was somewhat improved. Mr. Harris is the oldest of the best known officers of the department. He served as desk sergeant at the First Station for a long time, and was later made a sanitary officer. At a recent meeting of the board he was retired on half pay.

BANK CERTIFICATE WON'T STAY AWAY FROM OWNER

Thrown Into Commercial Stream, It Returns "After Many Days."

Mr. A. M. Rucker, cashier for the Drury-Hughes Company, tells a good story about money cast out in the wild stream of commercialism coming back to its original owner, and it reveals at once a unique coincidence.

Mr. Rucker had a spell of sickness during 1905, and was in the hospital for many months. He had spent most of his ready money, and finally his expenses grew to such an extent as to call for the changing of a new $20 gold certificate, which had been given him by his mother, and which he very highly prized.

However, he decided to give it up, and in having it changed marked the date, "December 22, 1905," upon its face, to see if it would ever pass back into his hands. He hardly thought it would, and after months passed without its return Mr. Rucker really paid no further attention to the matter.

Nearly one year after, however, and just before the recent Christmas holidays, on December 3, 1906, Mr. Rucker, now well and hearty, received a check from a friend who owed him some money. He took the check to a bank, and to his utter surprise, this self-same marked $20 gold certificate was handed him over the counter. Again he dashed it into the wild commercial stream, and used it to purchase a Christmas present for a friend, and it came back, like "bread cast upon the waters."

On January 24 Mr. Rucker took his salary check to bank to have it cashed, and the $20 gold certificate was again handed him.

He has it now, and says that as long as it appears that no other person wants it, he will keep it, though it is considerably travel-worn.

LIFE INSURANCE MEN HAVE BANQUET

Superintendent Bass Tenders Banquet to Assistants and Agents.

Superintendent S. B. Bass, having charge of the Richmond District for the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, gave a most delightful banquet to his assistants and agents at Ford's Hotel last night, and the affair was greatly enjoyed by all who attended.

Covers were laid for seventy-five, and after the eating was over there were many happy responses. It ran around the board that the year just closed has been the most successful one in the history of the company, and all those present seemed happy as a result.

When the cigars were passed around Mr. Bass rapped for order, and proposed a toast to the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, which was drunk standing.

Then the real speech-making started. Mr. R. B. Pegg, supervisor, making the first response.

His remarks were very happy, and were roundly cheered. Mr. W. H. Morrison, legal advisor, followed, and was given an equally flattering reception.

Other responses were made by Assistant Superintendent E. M. Goode, E. L. White, R. J. White, R. E. Goode, G. S. Barrett, L. B. Gilliam and R. E. Wilson, and Agents A. C. Redford and Charles G. Brown.

For the year in the Richmond District Mr. Redford led in soliciting material and Mr. Brown in ordinary business.

A CIGAR OR YOUR LIFE: TWO SYRIANS WOUNDED

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 4.—An armed murder and a suicide occurred to-day in a fruit store at 1200 New York Avenue. The parties to the tragedy were two Syrians, A. Filah, the owner of the store, and Antonio Abdo. The men were quarreling over a cigar, for which, it is said, he refused to pay, and started to leave, whereupon Filah grabbed Abdo's hat, and as he did so the latter drew a revolver and fired first at Filah, and then at himself. Abdo died instantly. Filah is dangerously wounded.

BLACKBURN WILL NOT BE INTERVIEWED

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 4.—E. Spencer Blackburn, the defeated Republican member of Congress from the Eighth North Carolina District, is in Washington, but he cannot be found. He arrived to-day, but every effort to have him show himself to visitors has been without success, nor will he reply to telephone calls.

Mr. Blackburn will not contest the election of Mr. Hackett. The law provides that notice of contest shall be filed within thirty days after the time the vote was canvassed by the State Canvassing Board. The State Board of North Carolina canvassed the returns on the first day of December. Notice of contest has not yet been filed, nor can it be.

It was stated to-night that the probability was that both Blackburn and Perkins, his secretary, will be arrested on the charge of criminal libel in connection with the publication of a letter alleged to have been written by the former, charging Governor Hoke with an "unholy alliance" with the American Book Company, of New York. Blackburn has denied writing the letter, and his statement seemed to lay the blame on Perkins.

AGED MONK A SUICIDE IN ARCHBISHOP'S PALACE

NEW YORK, January 4.—Theodore Slavinski, an aged monk in the St. Tikhon Monastery of the Holy Orthodox Church (Russian), in South Canaan, Pa., killed himself in a room in the archiepiscopal residence adjoining St. Nicholas Cathedral, in East Ninety-seventh Street, some time during the night. His body was found to-day lying across a cot in the room. There was a bullet wound in the head and a revolver was clutched in the dead man's hand. He had been dead for several hours. No cause for his act is known. Slavinski was 81 years old.

TWENTY DEGREES BELOW ZERO IN NORTH DAKOTA

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., January 4.—Reports of how North Dakota stood the cold wave of the last three days, received to-night, show that the suffering was great on account of lack of fuel. Thurstad, the temperature was below zero. Many towns along the line of the Great Northern Railroad tell stories of citizens being forced to stay in bed to keep warm, and of burning wood taken from their outhouses to heat their homes. Warmer weather is predicted.

"NATIONAL WIRE" IN HANDS OF RECEIVER

NEW HAVEN, CONN., January 4.—H. Stuart Hotchkiss and ex-Mayor Frederick T. Barnworth were appointed permanent receivers of the National Wire Corporation by Judge Riorbach, of the Superior Court, to-day. The liabilities of the concern are placed at $3,000,000.

Alleged Deserter Caught.

CITY OFFICIALS COME TO BLOWS

Assistant Engineer Bolton, and Health Officer Levy Have Altercation.

A personal encounter occurred in the office of City Engineer Cutshaw yesterday morning, in which Dr. E. C. Levy, City Health Officer, and Mr. Jackson Bolton, Assistant City Engineer, were the participants. While blows were exchanged, Mr. Bolton, it is said, being the aggressor, the two gentlemen were separated by persons in the office, and the deplorable clash ended.

There were present, besides the participants in the unexpected clash, City Engineer Cutshaw and City Attorney Henry R. Pollard and an officer of the Health Department. While these gentlemen decline to discuss the affair, from what can be learned, Dr. Levy went to the engineer's office to endeavor to secure the co-operation of that department in the abatement of a nuisance reported to him, and which required action by the Engineer's Department.

His conversation with Mr. Bolton was not satisfactory to the health officer, and he went to see the City Engineer. It is understood that Dr. Levy made a remark which Mr. Bolton construed as offensive, and that he resented it by striking Dr. Wynn, and the latter defended himself. Just as matters began to grow interesting these present intervened.

Just what language Dr. Levy used could not be learned, but the declaration was made last night on his behalf that he did not use any expression that could be construed as insulting.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Passenger Traffic on Virginia
Lines Heavy Again.

Passenger traffic on the various Virginia railroads is now heavy again, the return tide of holiday travel being at its height. This will continue until January 11th, when the limit of many of the round-trip tickets issued will expire. All the roads report an unusually heavy holiday movement.

The local railroads, in common with those all over the country, are experiencing great difficulty in securing sufficient cars to handle the heavy movement of freight, business having long been in excess of all former records.

The Atlantic Coast Line, Southern and Seaboard Air Line railways are preparing to inaugurate early in January, their palatial through train service from New York to Florida, resorts, and to the winter resorts of the Carolinas, including Southern Pines, Pinehurst, Alton and various other intermediate points. It is expected that this travel will far exceed every former year, owing to the general prosperity of the country. The three superb trains will be put on about January 8th. The district passenger agents of the three roads will go to Washington and make the trip down on the first Florida special.

Comptroller A. H. Plant, of the Southern Railway, has issued the following statement of earnings of that system for the third week in December: Earnings this week, $1,045,830, compared with $925,000 for the week of the current year, $1,045,830, compared with $750,000 for the week of 1905, an increase of $295,830.

LEE CAMP'S NEW OFFICERS

Those Who Will Direct Its Affairs During Reunion Installed.

R. E. Lee Camp, No. 1, Confederate Veterans, held its regular meeting last night at its hall, No. 508 East Broad Street. Commander Vass presided, and after the routine business introduced to the meeting officers for 1907, who were elected in December.

Peculiar interest attaches to the installation of the officers for 1907, which will be reunion year. Those assuming office were: Commander, W. B. Freeman; First Lieutenant, Commander, Catesby Jones; Second Lieutenant, Commander, Dr. C. W. P. Brock; Third Lieutenant, Commander, Peter J. White; Adjutant, J. Taylor Stratton.

Retiring Commander Vass vacated the chair in a pleasant speech introducing the new commander, Mr. Freeman, who made a short address.

Next Friday night, January 11th, was fixed as the annual memorial evening of the camp, which evening would be made of those members of Lee Camp who have passed away during 1906.

Sunday, January 13th, was also fixed by the camp as the date of the annual sermon, which will be preached at Central Methodist Church by the Rev. William J. Young, D. D.

The camp approved the arrangements made by the joint committee, as announced in The Times-Dispatch of Thursday, for the celebration of the birth of General Robert E. Lee on January 19th.
